7 Classy Gifts your recipient will love this Holiday

Before heading out to your next big gathering, don't forget the drinks! Whether you're going to a friend or family member for dinner or gatherings it's always etiquette to never go empty-handed. It shows you are thankful for the invite and the meal you're about to enjoy.

Here are my favorite drinks and accessories your recipient will love to have in their space and might even uncork at the table! They are all thought out there is definitely a drink for everyone on your list.

If you're headed to a family dinner, Baldacci should be the choice of wine to take. The bottle is beautiful with a detailed gold embossed crest. An amazing balance of acidity and fruit bold flavors of Mulberry, Pomegranate, Red Cherry, and Cedar Toast. Smaller berries with thicker skins bring another dimension to Cabernet Sauvignon.

The vineyard is located near Diamond Mountain, the soil is comprised primarily of volcanic ashes adding minerals to the wine and helping to temper the amazing amount of ripe fruit characteristics that come from the warm growing region. The berries are tiny with large seeds and the skins have a chewy jammy texture that transforms into a wine of extraordinary intensity.

Your recipient would enjoy the structure of this wine because it is so intense yet balanced.
