

WINERIES

Top 10 Small Wineries in Napa Valley

September 13, 2022

Napa Valley is chock-full of small production, family-owned, boutique-style wineries. In fact, over 90% of Napa Valley wineries are family owned. If you seek a truly personalized experience, then be sure to explore the many wineries of Napa Valley including those on this short list. Don't forget to call ahead before stopping in – while many wineries can accommodate walk-in visits (especially mid-week), most wineries are required (by county ordinances) to see guests by appointment. No matter how you get there, you will be glad you discovered these gems for yourself!

1. Baldacci Family Vineyards – Napa

Baldacci Family embodies passion for wine. Located in the acclaimed Stags Leap District of Napa Valley, the family invites guests to visit and to share in this passion. Second-generation vintner, Michael Baldacci, creates limited production wines from three distinct estate vineyards located in Calistoga, the Stags Leap District, and Los Carneros, all renowned regions within the Napa Valley AVA (American Viticultural Area).

The winery, well-known for its single vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon wines, is also known for its friendly and welcoming hospitality. Guests may receive exclusive access to limited production wines, fun special events, and private tasting opportunities.

Top 10 Small Wineries

Looking for an intimate, off-the-grid winery experience? Napa Valley is full of small production, family-owned, boutique-style wineries. In fact, over 90% of Napa Valley wineries are family owned. Come experience these gems for yourself and stay a while – after all, it's a family affair.

WINERY GEMS